WHEREAS, The most important period for development of reading proficiency is kindergarten through grade 2; and

WHEREAS, The State of Illinois in 2000 authorized and funded the development of a multifaceted, classroom-based literacy assessment that provides data to design meaningful instruction in order to identify students in need of additional attention and to enable all children to meet the Illinois Learning Standards as measured by the Illinois Standards Achievement Test in grade 3; and

WHEREAS, This assessment, known as the Illinois Snapshot of Early Literacy (ISEL), was developed collaboratively by Illinois institutions of higher education, classroom teachers, and administrators throughout our State; and

WHEREAS, ISEL has been used beneficially to help guide instruction for thousands of Illinois schoolchildren, thus proving its value in literacy development and subsequent advanced reading skills; and

WHEREAS, ISEL is owned by the State Board of Education; and

WHEREAS, ISEL is research-based, valid and reliable, endorsed by national literacy experts, and aligns closely to the Illinois Learning Standards and Common Core State Standards, which have been adopted by Illinois; and

WHEREAS, ISEL is made available by this State to all Illinois schools in paper form free of charge; and

WHEREAS, ISEL is complemented by a sophisticated technology platform that was funded by this State, the Chicago Community Trust, and other charitable foundations and was developed by the Center, Resources for Teaching and Learning, an Illinois 501(c)(3) organization that has worked closely with the State Board of Education and other State agencies for the past 40 years; and

WHEREAS, ISEL can be administered by school districts at a substantially lower cost per student than any other technology-based commercial assessment instrument, thus saving schools a substantial amount of money; and

WHEREAS, ISEL was designed by this State and its collaborators to work effectively with any computer operating system and mobile device, thus further reducing the cost of using this instrument; and

WHEREAS, Illinois has adopted the Common Core State Standards and is a member of the Partnership for Assessment of Readiness for College and Careers (PARCC); and

WHEREAS, United States Representative Marcy Kaptur has introduced H. Res. 129 (sic H.R. 129), known as the Return to Prudent Banking Act of 2013, reviving the separation between commercial banking and the securities business in the manner provided in the Glass-Steagall Act; and

WHEREAS, The Glass-Steagall Act has widespread national support from prominent economic and business leaders and national publications, including Thomas Hoenig of the FDIC, Sanford Weill, former CEO of Citigroup, economist Luigi Zingales, the New York Times, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, the Los Angeles Times, and many others; and

WHEREAS, As of now, 16 states have filed resolutions demanding immediate action on HR 129 to return to Glass-Steagall; two of those states, Maine and South Dakota, have passed those resolutions through both houses of their legislatures; in the remaining states, legislative action is still pending; and

WHEREAS, Overwhelming pressure must be brought to bear on members of the U.S. House of Representatives to add their names as co-sponsors to HR 129, the bill to restore Glass-Steagall, as well as on members of the U.S. Senate, where, as of now, no companion bill has yet been introduced; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE NINETY-EIGHTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS, that we urge Congress and the President to enact legislation that would reinstate the separation of commercial and investment banking functions in effect under the Glass-Steagall Act, prohibiting commercial banks and bank holding companies from investing in stocks, underwriting securities, or investing in or acting as guarantors to derivative transactions, in order to prevent American taxpayers from being called upon to fund hundred of billions of dollars to bail out financial institutions; and be it further
